Please let me know if you have information that differs from the results above or have any other type of problem with this application. Review the Codes FAQs since your question about different codes probably have already been answered. You will find the breakdown to the Five Group Accessory Code System used by the plants on this page. Pontiac used many types of undocumented options which may be the reason for some errors plus factory records have not turned up yet. I am VERY appreciative to people that correct information which was found to be wrong or missing. Send a message using the following web URL: Send A Note

Thanks - Geoff
